

ADRIAN BUTTERFIELD

CONDUCTOR - Baroque Ensembles

"The French violinist and composer's works are elegant and exposed, demanding absolute clarity and London Handel Players precision from their players a challenge Butterfield and the ensemble meet with complete assurance."

BBC MUSIC MAGAZINE

Founder / Director, London Handel Players
Musical Director, Tilford Bach Festival

Performing as soloist, conductor, and play/direct leader, Adrian Butterfield has led all the major choral works of Bach, Handel, and their contemporaries covering previous performances with the RLPO, London Mozart Players, the Malta Philharmonic Orchestra, the European Union Chamber Orchestra, Croatian Baroque Ensemble. Butterfield also recently held position as director of the London Handel Festival.

Plans for the 25/26 season include a residency series directing French Baroque, Mozart in Mannheim and Bach Celebratory Cantatas programmes at Wigmore Hall, a 25th anniversary concert for the London Handel Players promoted by the London Handel Festival in November, and conducting Bach's Easter Oratorio and a programme of works by Ravel, Fauré and Berlioz in the summer of 2026.
